

Juan Bartolomei, MD
Neurosurgeon

Dr. Juan Bartolomei performs the latest in minimally invasive surgery techniques as a spine-specialized neurosurgeon at Spine Team Texas. As a founding partner of the Southlake-based practice, Dr. Bartolomei is committed to offering patients the utmost in innovation and high quality clinical outcomes.

Prior to practicing at Spine Team Texas, Dr. Bartolomei was an assistant professor of neurosurgery at Yale University School of Medicine in New Haven, Conn and co-director of the Yale Spine Center. His fellowship training was completed at the renowned Barrow Neurological Institute in Phoenix, Ariz., where he also served as an attending. Dr. Bartolomei graduated cum laude from Yale University School of Medicine, and he completed his internship and residency training at Yale New Haven Hospital, where he also was appointed chief resident. During his residency, he underwent specialized spine training in London. He received his undergraduate degree from Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wis.

Dr. Bartolomei has made presentation across the country and serves as faculty in national meetings, teaching specialized spine procedures to the neurosurgical community. He also serves as a member of the national outcomes committee for Joint Section of Spine and has been published in peer-review journals and written chapters in the treatment of spinal disorders. Additionally, he has many professional affiliations, including ones with the following organizations: American Association of Neurological Surgeons, the Society for Neurosciences, the Congress of Neurological Surgeons, the North American Spine Society and the American Medical Association.

Fluent in Spanish, Dr. Bartolomei's patients appreciate his sense of humor and professionalism. When he's not at Spine Team Texas, Dr. Bartolomei enjoys spending time with his wife and children.

Spine Team Texas
1545 East Southlake Boulevard
Suite 100
Southlake, TX 76092
Phone: 817.442.9300
Fax: 817.416.0108

Contact: Andrea Becicka
Spine Team Texas
817-749-2141
andrea@spineteamtexas.com